"PODUNK LIMITED" A ROARING SUCCESS

A packed house greeted the "Podunk Limited" at the city hall last evening. The cast was made up from the best of the home talent of the town and each actor was especially suited to the part assigned him. The play was well acted and as promised, there were about three laughs to the minute.

Mrs. Johnson under whose direction the entertainment was given, is an excellent trainer and deserves much credit for the success of the evening.

Industrial Co. Holds Meeting.

Last evening a meeting of the Ada Industrial Co. was held, at which time matters concerning the future course of the company were taken up and discussed. It was finally decided to place the whole business in the hands of the directors for final settlement. Just what this will be is a matter of conjecture.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON TOMORROW EVENING

A total eclipse of the moon will occur tomorrow evening. The middle of the phenomenon will be at 6:21, the eclipse ending shortly before 8. If it is a clear evening it will be observed with interest by many here.

"The Pen With The Crescent-Filler"

There are many so called self-filling fountain pens, but there is only one with the right principle—

CONKLIN'S
Self-Filling
Fountain Pen

"The Pen with the Crescent Filler." To fill, simply dip pen in any ink and press the Crescent-Filler. Same movement cleans it. Nothing to get out of order—nothing to take apart—nothing complicated. Writing qualities unequalled. Feeds the ink to the paper as steadily as a watch ticks. No balks, skips or bolts.

Sketch of New Officials.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 12.—Lee Cruce, governor-elect of Oklahoma, is a native of Kentucky, and a successful banker at Ardmore. He was defeated for the democratic nomination for governor three years ago by C. N. Haskell.

J. J. McAlester, lieutenant governor, is a pioneer business man of Indian Territory, and has served for three years as a member of the corporation commission.

Jesse J. Dunn of Alva, re-elected to the supreme court, is a native of Illinois, who came to Oklahoma via Mississippi and Kansas. He has served as president of the state bar association, and was democratic state chairman in the first state-wide campaign. He is now chief justice.

Matthew J. Kane of Kingfisher, re-elected to supreme court, is a native of New York and an Oklahoma "89er." He was a member of the Oklahoma constitutional convention.

Henry M. Furman of Ada, re-elected to criminal court of appeals, is a pioneer Indian Territory lawyer, and ran second in race for United States senator three years ago. Now presiding judge of criminal court.

Thomas H. Doyle of Perry, re-elected to criminal court of appeals, was an Oklahoma boomer, and prominent as a legislator in territorial days. Was a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor in 1907.

J. R. Armstrong of Hugo, criminal court of appeals, is a native of Alabama, and now district judge of the Sixth judicial district.

Ben Harrison of Calvin, secretary of state, is a Choctaw Indian, who served in the constitutional convention and every legislature since statehood.

Charles West, re-elected attorney general, was prominent in territorial days as a trust buster and in national guard affairs. Is now president of Attorney Generals' Association of the United States.

Robert Dunlop of Newkirk, state treasurer, is a Scotchman and a successful business man. He was defeated for the nomination for the same office at the first state primaries by only 100 votes.

Leo Meyer of Sayre, state auditor, was named for that office by the state central committee following the death of Col. Bill Cross. He has been assistant secretary of state since statehood.

George A. Henshaw of Madill, corporation commissioner, served as a member of the constitutional convention, and has been assistant attorney general and counsel to the corporation commission since statehood.

P. A. Ballard of Coyle, insurance commissioner, is a farmer, and was a member of the committee on insurance in the first legislature.

W. H. L. (Swamp) Campbell of Ada, re-elected clerk of the supreme court, is a lawyer and a Texan, and has served as a master of chancery in the Southern district of Indian Territory.

Kate Barnard Again.

Kate Barnard of Oklahoma City, re-elected state commissioner of charities and corrections, is an Oklahoma 89er and a charity worker of experience. She assisted in drafting most of the constitutional provisions on that subject.

Chas. L. Daugherty of Oklahoma City, re-elected labor commissioner, is an old time printer and newspaper man, and a prominent union labor leader.

R. H. Wilson of Chickasha, state superintendent of public instruction, is now county superintendent of Grady county and a school man of experience.

G. T. Bryan, president of the state board of agriculture, has been a member of the board of agriculture since statehood, and has served as superintendent of live stock inspection. He was also a member of the territorial live stock sanitary commission before statehood.

Ed Boyle, chief mine inspector, is a miner of experience and has served in two Oklahoma legislatures.

John O'Brien of Lehigh, Martin Clark of McAlester and Frank Haley of Henryetta, elected as district mine inspectors, are also experienced miners.

Oklahoma Tragedy.

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 14.—Robert Gentry, a son of the late Captain Gentry of Checotah, was shot and killed late yesterday afternoon at Bond Switch by Robert Watson.

After Gentry and Watson had quarreled, Watson left the house, went three miles to his home and returned armed. As he re-entered the house Gentry shot at him, inflicting a flesh wound. Watson opened on Gentry with a six-shooter and a shotgun and put nine shot into his body. Watson surrendered and is in jail at Eufaula.

Mrs. L. C. Weaver, who has been here for the past two or three weeks on a visit to her sons, Otis and Carl, left this morning for her home at Mt. Vernon, Texas.

TROUBLE WITH MEXICO BREWING

REPORTED THAT MOB OF MEXI- CANS ARE MARCHING ON ROCK SPRINGS.

Austin Tex., Nov. 14.—Governor Campbell tonight received a long distance call from the sheriff of Edwards county, saying he had received a telegram from Del Rio that the effect that armed Mexicans are marching to Rock Springs because of the recent lynching.

Governor Campbell ordered the sheriff to have all the deputies from surrounding counties report to him at once. The governor also is getting into communication with the state rangers. If need be, he will order out the state militia.

Town is Surrounded.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 14.—A long distance telephone message to the Associated Press from Rock Springs says:

"Much uneasiness prevails here tonight because of a message received from the sheriff at Del Rio that a body of armed Mexicans is marching upon the town. The county is well picketed tonight, and a request for aid has been sent to Governor Campbell. He has promised to send rangers."

"The Mexican consul from Eagle Pass was in Rock Springs today investigating the lynching of Antonio Rodriguez. He did not divulge his findings."

WITH THE CITY COUNCILMEN

The work of the city council last evening was routine in the main. After one hour spent in allowing the monthly batch of bills two important resolutions were adopted. The first was to correct an error in the description of the Katy railway property, the second provided for the issuance of the Main street improvement bonds.

Asphalt next engaged the attention of the council and brought forth some very positive assertions from some of the city dads. The story is about this: The Shelby Downard Company have shipped in Ardmore asphalt to start their mill with and to mix with the Pontotoc asphalt to make the latter the right constituency as they claim. The council was firm and would hear to no other than Pontotoc material being used on Ada streets according to the contract with the Shelby Downard Co. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion of the councilmen that the movement to use Ardmore material here was not from necessity, but that it is an attempt to discredit the home product.

The paving company claim that it will be ten days at least before they can obtain asphalt from Pontotoc mines. This will delay the work just that many days and besides they have no assurance of any amount of good material. The paving people say "we can't go ahead with the work at present if we can't use some Ardmore stuff."

The council says, "You can't use it!"

Big Wolf Hunt.

Cleo, Okla., Nov. 14.—Nov. 22 one of the biggest wolf hunts ever known in the northwestern part of the state will be pulled off. Territory about twelve miles square in the Glass mountains has been selected and this will be surrounded with men and boys armed with shotguns. All the wolves and coyotes in this district will be driven into a basin at the south end of the mountains and here the slaughter will take place.

The last hunt, held about a year ago, resulted in more than a dozen wolves being killed. More than three times that many were seen and numerous depredations have been committed by the animals during the past few months.

ELECTION OFFICERS IN TROUBLE

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 14.—Miles Allen and John Hopkins, two Logan county democratic members of the election board, who are between "the devil and the deep sea," on account of the present election muddle in this county, were in for a long conference with District Judge Huston today.

Armed men, it is said, stood over them commanding them to continue their count, but they handed in their resignation when they reached a precinct which was particularly "rotten."

Democrats are urging them to stand to their resignation, but they have been mandamus by Judge Huston to continue their count, and fear arrest.

Jim Brooks and Frank Hindman have been appointed to succeed Allen and Hopkins and they in turn have been mandamus to continue the count, and enjoined from issuing certificates of election.

The official return certificates have been placed in the Oklahoma State bank by the republican member of the board.

Women of Washington to Celebrate.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 14.—One hundred and thirty thousand women were added to the voting strength of the state of Washington by the adoption of an amendment for equal suffrage to the constitution at the election on November 8. Formal announcement will be made by Governor Hay within 10 days or as soon as the official canvass of the returns has been completed. Women, who are taxpayers, also are eligible for jury duty. The women of Spokane probably will cast their first votes at an election to ratify the new charter, which provides for a commission form of government.

Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton of Spokane, president of the Washington Political Equality league, entertained her co-workers and a large number of advocates of equal suffrage at a banquet the evening of November 10 when it was announced that November 24 has been set aside as a special day of thanksgiving for the newly enfranchised women of the state. Mrs. Hutton said:

"I attribute the success of the movement largely to the broad-minded ideas of the men of Washington, who stand for a square deal in all things. Another reason for our success is the fact that the management of the campaign has been at all times under the control of the women of the state. Minnie J. Reynolds, formerly of Colorado, did excellent work and to her the women of this state owe much for their great victory at the polls last Tuesday."

"Arrangements are now under way for a celebration in honor of adding the fifth state to the suffrage banner of states that will be the most remarkable demonstration of the campaign in this state, or, in fact, in any part of the Northwest."

SUPREME COURT MAY TAKE A HAND

ELECTION TROUBLES MAY BE AIDED BEFORE HIGH COURT.

Guthrie, Nov. 14.—That the supreme court of Oklahoma may review the election throughout the state, is the opinion of Attorney General West given the governor. He intimates that there were many illegal votes cast and says:

"If open defiance of the laws of the state by the United States attorney advising the laws of the state be nullified, printed broadcast throughout the state, does not give a cause for action in the state in its sovereign capacity to bring action to correct the wrong directly following therefrom, I can conceive of no action that the state might bring."

Jeff Denies Boat "Fixed."

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 14.—James J. Jeffries had a few words to say about the stories printed recently that the Reno fight with Johnson was "fixed." A few weeks ago Abe Attell was credited with a statement to the effect that the negro had agreed to lay down, but that he had given Jeff the double cross.

Next came John L. Sullivan, who made assertion that the July 4 engagement was to have been a crooked deal, but that Johnson experienced a change of heart the last twenty-four hours preceding the fray on the desert.

"Never from the moment that I signed articles in New York until I went into the ring at Reno was there any understanding between Johnson and myself that the fight was to be decided in any way except strictly upon its merits. Any man who speaks to the contrary tells a lie and I challenge John L. Sullivan to prove his statements," said Jeff.

"I trained the best I knew how, and I fought my best I knew how, and have kept pretty quiet ever since. A great deal has been said about my being doped. You may now say for me that I am positive that I was doped some time during the last three days that I spent at Mona Springs. This is not the talk of a squealer. I have spent a lot of money and am willing to spend a lot more to land the guilty party. Whoever he, or they were, their tracks were covered up so thoroughly that it is the next thing to impossible to prove anything."

"Beets" the Record.

This morning W. T. Tarkenton brought in two beets that are about the biggest yet. One weighs nine pounds and is twenty-one inches in length. The other weighs seven pounds. Mr. Tarkenton said he was going to exhibit the big one at the postoffice, and felt safe in offering a reward of $5 to the man who could bring in a larger one.

Mrs. S. I. Tobias returned from Oklahoma City this morning.

The News desires to commend the action of the council in its determination to compel the Shelby-Down-ard Co. to comply with its contract to use Pontotoc county asphalt in paving the streets of Ada. The council has stood by the company and been extremely lenient in its treatment of the contractors, and now should be made to comply with the contract. If as they state, the material here is inferior, they should have stated the fact at the beginning.
Other towns have found the Pontotoc product most satisfactory, and the proposal to use Ardmore asphalt for a part of the work looks very much like one of the councilmen was right when he gave it as his opinion that the whole scheme is to discredit the Ada asphalt in other places that will have paving done by giving out the report that the Ada product was inferior and that for that reason they were compelled to use material from Ardmore.

If the matter were left to the News, Champ Clark would be the next speaker of the house by a unanimous vote. The party under his leadership has won some notable victories and is more united than for seventeen years past. He has fought a most gallant fight and is entitled to some of the fruits of his victory. He will probably be opposed by Fitzgerald of New York, the man whose desertion of the party at the critical time prevented Clark and the insurgents from snatching the crown from Czar Cannon's brow at the beginning of the last congress.
If Fitzgerald bobs up as a candidate he should be accorded the treatment any other traitor deserves.

Great things were expected of the pure food law passed by congress a few years ago. However, the vendors of adulterated goods, doctored up to look like the genuine, got busy and by means of their pull succeeded in getting permission to go ahead with their old way of doing things, provided, they would print on the label the materials used to adulterate or preserve their mixtures. As few of us are chemists this is no protection at all. From reading the list of poisons on the label the average man is unable to tell whether he is getting embalming fluid or some new and highly nutritious preparation.

Developing a new country is a strenuous business and the men who conquer the difficulties are never found among the weaklings. The man who cannot stand turmoil and bravely meet many difficulties has no place in the work. He had better remain in some sheltered sleepy village of the older settled parts of the country where he can eke out an existence with little effort and take life easy. Of course he is not likely to set the world on fire anywhere, but in a new country he is decidedly out of place. It's hustlers we must have here.

Newspapers come in for lots of cussing, some of it deserved, perhaps, but as a rule the papers are on the right side of every moral question and also the strongest advocates of good government to be found in the community. Most editors try to be fair with everyone we doubt if any other man can be found who weighs the merits of a case and makes a more honest endeavor to accord exact justice than the average editor.

The corn crop of Iowa this year is estimated at 400,000,000 bushels, the average yield per acre being about 45 bushels. A few years ago the average western farmer was joked about being a corn burner, but that day is passed. It always brings a good price now and the farmers of the great west are becoming the capitalists of the nation.

It is only three weeks until the election for freeholders to write the new charter for Ada is to be held.
Meantime the citizens of the city should be considering carefully who these eight men are to be. Two from each ward must be chosen and the question is, who are they to be?
Politics should cut no ice in this affair.

A MODERN JUDAS.

The Oklahoman has always posed as a democratic paper, and has received good money from democratic candidates for space used, but in the face of all its professed loyalty to the party its greed caused it to publish a lot of republican dope against democratic nominees just a day or two before the election after it was too late for the democrats to meet it, and this caused the defeat of Fulton for congress and cost the party several thousands of votes.
This action on the part of the paper that should be the pride of the state and the fact that it has always been very chinchy in its treatment of other places, seeming to think that the boundaries of the state extended no farther than the corporate limits of Oklahoma City, has stirred up a row that will cost the paper far more than the few dollars it received from the republicans. The following by Luther Harrison, manager of the democratic press bureau, is to the point and speaks for itself.

"There is a vacant place in the democratic ranks today and a vacant seat by the democratic camp fire. The Daily Oklahoman heralded for years as the leading organ of Oklahoma democracy has crossed the picket line of the republican army and ranges today beneath the republican flag. On the eve of the election, when each instant is priceless, when every vote is heavy with the fate of a commonwealth, this apostate journal surrenders its honor and sells its soul for considerably less than the blood-money of the Nazarene. Monday's edition displays to the world in shameless headlines the paper's treason and conveys to the startled ears of the chagrined democracy the disgraceful story of journalistic degeneracy. In a word, it has forsaken the democratic party and from its chosen coign of vantage has opened its masked batteries on the lines of its former comrades.

"The treason of the Stafford clan is not exemplified in the historic pages of crime. Other minds have been debased, other men have been debauched, other souls have been prostituted by the maddening greed for gold. Through the tears and heart throbs of age-old chronicles appears the story of former apostasies, where brains and consciences have been sacrificed to the soulless god of gold. Treason has its divinities, and to propitiate these divinities, intelligence and character and the souls of men have gone to eternal immolation. The agony of Gethsemane was augmented by the money bought treachery of Iscariot. The star crowned glories of Saratoga and Yorktown were saddened by the dereliction of Arnold. It was the bullet of a renegade Indian that brought death to Pokanoket when all the militia of New England were powerless to check the Wampanoag chief. And the victory of Oklahoma's democracy will be darkened by the treachery of the Daily Oklahoman.

The sword of an enemy is always honorable when wielded by an open hand, but the steel of the assassin becomes a weapon of infamy when struck by a traitor in the closing hours of a mortal conflict or in the final hour of a state campaign. The soul that has the courage to do or dare in the opening contest and follow its chosen banner to the last ditch is crowned with honor though it may not be crowned with victory.

When Thomas Marcum declared in August that he would fight the forces of democracy from the first to the final charge, he stepped into the open where friends might recognize his succor and foes might apprehend his steel. But when the Daily Oklahoman conceals its treason behind the democratic banner and secretly writes republican on the bosses of its buckler, it places itself with Iscariot and Arnold as a traitor to its party, the auctioneer of its consequence, the barterer of its principles and the blasphemer of its god.

"In the primal days of the revolution when war broke out between the colonies and the mother country, Lord Fairfax of Virginia, expressed his sympathy with the arms of Great Britain and gathering his mantle around him went over at once to the British line. But when thousands of brave men had gone up to God beneath the shadow of the flag, when thousands more maimed and wounded in the contest were sadly awaiting the deliverance of death, there arose another, a new Iscariot, who dared to sell all that had been gained—his country and its flag, its genius and its honor to the accursed enemies of freedom. So in this trying hour of the final charge there arises the hiss of a mottled serpent, who surrenders for gold the power of its influence and strikes a blow for what it has been too cowardly and too contemptible to advocate or defend. As Judas was to the Apostles as Arnold was to the Colonial Rebels, so is Stafford of the Oklahoman to the Democracy of Oklahoma.

"Acknowledging no motive but interest, knowing no criterion but avarice, he creeps into the wigwam of his former companions, sits in their conferences, participates in their councils, shares in their secrets and pocketing with complacent infamy the gold of a hireling, he sells his friends for less than a penny a head.

He has feasted at the banquet of his party leaders, he had been granted favors from their generous hands; but with the ruthless hand of greed he blotted generosity and friendship from his vocabulary, and with the excess of canine fury rends the hand of his former benefactors.

"Just for a handful of silver he left us, Just for a ribbon to stick in his coat."

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly.
Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs.
It always itching instantly; makes hair

BEAR THAT LIKES PUDDINGS

Young Canadian Black Cub in New York Zoological Gardens Becoming Very Haughty.

In the New York Zoological Gardens there is a young Canadian black bear that has become very haughty of late. Part of his biography has just been published. It appears that when the bear was a cub he was a farm, pet, was as domesticated as a dog and wandered untethered about the yard and all over the farm. The sort of life he led and some of the stunts he did are entertainingly written in "The Frolics of My Black Bear Cub," by Mrs. E. H. Baynes in the March St. Nicholas. The article is illustrated by photographs which show also a tame prairie wolf and a deer, playfellows and domesticated companions of the cub Jimmie. We quote one of the "frolics":

Jimmy's favorite chum and playfellow was Romulus, a young prairie wolf. The fact that they were such good friends was due largely to Jimmy's good nature, for certainly Romulus teased him in every possible way.
Even in the matter of food, Jimmy was disposed to be generous, and he seldom resented the attempts of Romulus, or of Actaeon, the deer, to take from him his bread and apples. There was, however, one particular kind of food which he insisted on having his full share of, and that was plum pudding. He would eat it at any time of the day or night, whether he was hungry or not, and if there was any limit to the amount he would eat, no one ever discovered it. No matter how much was given to him he never seemed to consider the quantity sufficient to warrant his sharing it with his playfellows, and if either of these attempted to force him to divide with him the result was a fight. Not that Jimmie was really vicious, but he gave his companions to understand that on the subject of plum pudding his opinion was law. One day, after romping in the snow all the morning, Jimmy presented himself at the kitchen window, and several slices of bread were passed out to him. The cub took them in his mouth, let them fall to the ground and continued to peer into the room.

IRISH TONGUE CRUSHED OUT

Curious Story of How "Tally-Stick" Was Used Decades Ago to Kill Gaelic Language.

The curious story of how the "tally-stick" crushed out the remains of the ancient Irish language among Irish children some decades ago was told the other day by T. P. O'Connor, the Irish political leader.

"When the English were determined to make all Ireland over into a sort of England," said Mr. O'Connor, "they used some most unusual means.
Among these was the 'tally-stick.' This was a small stick of wood which each child was forced to wear on a cord about his neck. Every time his parents heard him say a word of Irish they were supposed to cut a notch in the stick, just as the American trappers of the old days are said to have notched the stocks of their guns every time they killed an Indian. Then when the child got to school the next day the master counted the notches.
And for each notch the child was given one blow with a switch—one notch, one blow; two notches, two blows; six notches, six blows. Thus the Irish language was beaten out of the mouths of the Irish children.

"In school the little ones were taught to look on themselves not as Irish children, but as English. They were not taught any Irish history, and the fires of patriotism in them were damped in every way.

"But of late years there has come up a great national movement in Ireland which has restored the ancient Irish or Gaelic tongue, and has made the people proud of their ancient literature. It has reawakened the pride of the Irish nation. A university has just been founded in which the Irish language is now being taught by six or eight professors."

Look Out!

The habit of puckering up the lips is said to be fatal to the contour of a beautiful mouth, for the lips are so flexible that after awhile the puckering habit becomes second nature to them and they stay puckered.

Child Burned to Death Near Enid.

Enid, Okla., Nov. 14.—One child is dead and another dangerously burned near Fairview yesterday, when the three children of Philip Wagner played with matches. The three, ranging in ages from 1 to 4 years, found a box of matches on the table. The clothing of the two smaller children caught fire and before the older one could call for help it was consumed.
When a larger sister arrived and extinguished the flames, the baby was dead from suffocation. It is believed the other child cannot recover.

SMITH GETS 40 PINTS

RAIDS JOINT WEST OF CEMENT PLANT.

For some time various rumors have been afloat concerning a "soft" drink joint just west of the cement plant situated on the side of the road. Saturday Sheriff Smith decided to take a little examination of the premises. The alleged proprietors of the place had seen him earlier in the day and thinking they knew him, did not at first recognize the dried up, tattered looking little Irish man who walked in on them. There was no time to hide the goods after they recognized him as the sheriff, and he confiscated forty pints of their stock in trade. The joint is said to be run by Isbel & Sparks, but no arrests have yet been made.

Kempton on Wheels.

Carter, Okla., Nov. 14.—The town fight between Carter and Kempton has been settled and the latter town has begun to move to Carter. The Wichita Falls & Northwestern Town-site company located the town of Kempton two miles from Carter and the fight between the two was carried to the corporation commission twice. The first time, the location of a depot was denied Carter, and the second time, even a switch was denied. But the farmers refused to haul their cotton or other products to Kempton and even hauled everything from Carter to the Rock Island, ten or twelve miles away. After something like thirteen or fourteen hundred bales of cotton had been ginned at Carter and several hundred hauled to the Rock Island a compromise was reached by which a depot is located at Carter and the entire town of Kempton moves to Carter.

It is a common sight now to see numbers of houses on wheels and trucks en route to Carter and even one bank building (brick) is being moved.

26,000 HUNTERS IN OKLAHOMA GET HUNTING PERMITS

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 14.—The Oklahoma hunting season opens with greater interest than for a good many years.

The cold wave and rains of the first of November have been followed by a flight of geese and ducks. Replenished ponds and lakes along the Arkansas, Cimarron, Verdigris, Deep Fork and Canadian rivers are attracting the usual heavy water fowl shooting.

Over 950 hunting licenses have been issued in Tulsa county alone and about 26,000 have been issued in the state. More than two hundred hunters left from Tulsa and Sapulpa this week for points on the Osage, Tiger Mountains and Conchata hills, and the Kinautcha and Flint hills of the Cherokee and Choctaw country.

The quail season opened on the 15th of this month and will remain open until February first, 1911. The limit on game in the present Oklahoma game laws is one deer in a season; three wild turkey; fifteen prairie chickens in a day and 100 in a season; ten geese or brant in a day; and 25 quail, plover, curlew, ducks, snipe and other shore birds in a day, and 150 in the season. It is unlawful to kill birds or game at night or to use poison, snare or bounds.

According to Graham Burnham of Tulsa, a many year resident of Oklahoma and perhaps the best posted on Oklahoma game conditions, all species of game are on the increase in Oklahoma. Deer are returning to their habitat in the Little River country of the Seminole, in the Tiger mountains and back along the Cimarron ridges and even across into the old Oklahoma Sax and Fox country. Wild turkey also shows a decided increase in numbers from the Arkansas to the Canadian rivers.

A COUSIN TO THE NEW GOVERNOR OF TENNESSEE

It develops that our fellow townsman, J. W. Davis is a first cousin to Capt. Ben W. Hooper, the governor-elect of Tennessee. Dr. Lem Hooper, father of the governor, being an uncle of Mr. Davis. Mr. Davis says he would be proud of the relationship if Hooper were only a democrat, but being a republican he has not altogether settled in his mind whether the honor is on his side or Hooper's.

Voted for Them Anyway.

It is said that a certain man in Pontotoc county could not bring himself to vote for three nominees on the democratic ticket. He had been used to the Texas manner of blacking candidates, and supposing that the cross stamp was to be used like a pencil in preparing a Texas ticket, grabbed it up and put the mark in the squares in front of the three men whom he wished to vote against, leaving all others beautifully blank.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES CAPITAL CASE

The supreme court today rendered the long expected decision in the capital location case. Guthrie gets the plum for the present, at least. A Western Union message states that the decision was based on the alleged unconstitutional form of the ballot used in the June election. It is also rumored at Oklahoma City, so the message states, that Gov. Haskell will call a special session of the legislature during the next few days to consider the situation growing out of the decision.

Suit Settled After 22 Years.

Oklahoma City Nov. 14.—The 22 years Parker-Howe land contest for title to the 160 acres in the northeast part of Oklahoma City, north of Thirteenth street and east of the Santa Fe tracks, now worth more than one million dollars, was decided finally Monday morning by the federal court at Guthrie when it held that Parker and his assigns were entitled to possession. The land is now held by the Capital Developing company of which Thomas McMeachan is president and principal stockholder.

The Parker-Howe contest has been unique in Oklahoma where contests growing out of claims secured on the memorable run of April 22 1889, have been numerous and bitter. Several deaths have resulted in disputes over this land.

The decision of the court was based on the decision of the federal land office that title rested in Parker. The court held it was not in its province to reverse the land office.

TULSA ELECTION INSPECTOR IS RELEASED AT GUTHRIE

A. J. Shaw, a Tulsa county election inspector, was released by the criminal court of appeals at Guthrie Saturday on a writ of habeas corpus. Shaw was arrested by the county attorney after he had refused a negro the right to vote on an ex-parte affidavit that he was qualified.

W. A. Ledbetter, Oklahoma City attorney, appearing for the accused, contends that an election official has the right to satisfy himself as to a voter's qualifications aside from any affidavits.

Cotton Still Falling.

Cotton is off another 18 points today, making the price here about 13 3/4. Only a bale or two has been brought in today, however.
